

Three Tone Rail Sound Sculpture Natural Iron

sku: EG7.90001

Ernst Grulers original Sound Sculptures were made from repurposed scrap steel and pressure canisters, with a liberal sprinkling of industrial chic, and the technical and aesthetic attention to detail that informs all of Ernsts work. The bells are meant to be rung, and in many cases other parts of the sculptures also resonate when struck. This is why he calls them Sound Sculptures: they invite exploration and interaction, along with the contemplation of the origin and previous functions of the various scrap components of the sculptures. Studio A Home has reproduced Ernst's original Sound Sculptures from iron. They exactly reflect the component parts of his originals. Available in three styles.
